Shukla Debnath

Shukla Debnath is an undergraduate senior at the The Ohio State University majoring in Hospitality Management. She is involved in various cultural activities, specializing in different forms of South Asian dance traditions. She was the Vice president of Bangladesh student Association in 2010. Still she is an active and enthusiastic member of BSA.

Nutsuda Sumonsiri / Thai Student Association

They are one of the active student groups at The Ohio State University. For this evening they are going to perform traditional Thai dance from the northern part of Thailand, called "Fon Malai". In this performance, the dancer uses Malai, the thick garlands of jasmine, for paying respect to the Buddha. The garlands can also be offered to esteemed elders, special guests, or sweetheart as a token of respect, love and happiness. Therefore, this dance is usually performed in the celebration or special events.

Gujarati Club

Performer: Nilang, Luan, Krishna, Tanuj, Shivani, Puja, Himadri, and Sonia

Their focus is to promote culture through performances. For this event they will perform Bollywood dancing and relay their traditions and cultures.
