Dear Dr Nahar,

I am writing to invite you to visit our institute at a time that is convenient to you during the month of January 2014 and give a seminar. A number of scientists in our institute working on different areas of astrophysics and atomic physics would like to have discussions with you. In particular, my colleagues and I would also like to explore the possibility of collaborative projects dealing with research and education in astrophysics between the Ohio State University and our institute.

Our institute will make all the arrangements for your local needs including accommodation and transport.

Yours sincerely,

Bhanu Pratap Das
Senior Professor
