NOTICE

To recognize and motivate faculty members for the outstanding research publications and teaching in class and encourage students in academic and research excellence in the Department of Zoology. Prof. Sultana N. Nahar, Department of Astronomy, Ohio State University, Columbus, U.S.A. and Co-Director US-India STEM Education & Research Facility Project, sponsored two prizes namely "Sultana N. Nahar distinguished teacher of the year Award" in Zoology and "Alburuj R. Rahman Prize" for the best Ph.D. thesis for a graduating Ph.D. student in Zoology.

1. "Sultana N. Nahar Distinguished teacher of the year Award"

Nomination of this prize for a faculty member will be based largely on research publications and with whom atleast one student has carried out his/her research for Ph.D. & Master thesis or authored one publication in a peer-reviewed journal in the past year.

2. "Aluruj R. Rahman Prize" for the best Ph.D. thesis for a graduating Ph.D. student in Zoology

Selection of this prize will be for a Ph.D. thesis which has already been recommended for awarding the degree. The nomination will have 70% weight on publication, 10% for conference etc and 20% for post-graduate academic record.

Nominations are invited for the above two awards for the year 2017.

The application with a C.V. detailing research publication, book; book chapter, citation, H-index, conference symposia attended, foreign visit and research project heading during 2016-2017 be submitted with the Chairperson. Last date for receipt of application is 15th February, 2018.
