

Is there anybody out there?

Image credit: David A. Aguilar (CfA)

Image credit: Nola Johnston

Astronomy 294: Life in the Universe

Learn about scientists' ongoing quest for answers to some of the most fundamental human questions: How did life originate on Earth? Is there life on other planets? Are we alone in the universe? What is the long-term future of life in the universe?

- Meets MWF at 1:30. Call Number: 02481-3
- 3 credit hours.
- Prerequisites: Math 075 or 076 or 102, or Math Placement Level R
- Designed for non-science majors and taught at the AST 161, 162 level.
- For more information contact gaudi.1@osu.edu, or go to <http://www.astronomy.ohio-state.edu/~gaudi/AST294>