Aligarh, November 24: US National Science Foundation official, Dr. Ellen M. Carpenter, under the flagship of US embassy and USIEF, visited the APJ Abdul Kalam STEM Center for Education and Research at Aligarh Muslim University (AMU).

Dr Carpenter, who is also a professor of psychiatry and biobehavioral sciences visited to figure out the impact, success and future course of action in STEM education and research at AMU. Her observation will pave way for recommendation that can facilitate possibility for bringing more research and educational opportunities for the varsity. The program was well attended and got a stupendous response.

AMU's director and co-director Prof. Tauheed Ahmad and Prof. (Mrs.) Farrukh Arjmand, jointly organized the program and gave an overview about the achievements of AMU and Ohio State University (OSU), USA collaboration and also discussed about future line of action and objectives of APJ Abdul Kalam STEM Center.

The graduates of OSU-AMU program Asim Rizvi, Sabiha Parveen and Swaleha Naseem deliberated on their project with presentations and shared their experience about their visit to OSU, USA.

The programme also carried exclusive presentation about Women in upcoming STEM Road show program starting from February 5, 2018 to February 23, 2018 in different cities of India which will be organized under the banner of APJ Abdul Kalm STEM Center.
