

DRUM

AUG 2012

Building Mathematics Capacity

for students of the Young
Scholars
Program

There is Definitely a Disability Culture and where there is culture

there is identity

*The Life and Legacy of
Dr. Frank W.
Hale Jr.*

1927-2011

T · H · E
OHIO STATE
UNIVERSITY

THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY
OFFICE OF DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION
Excellence through diversity odi.osu.edu

Office of Diversity and Inclusion

The Office of Diversity and Inclusion congratulates students and faculty recipients of ODI grants and scholarships for diversity-related research activities and education abroad, and awards for scholarly achievement.

Education Abroad Scholarships

Undergraduate scholarships awarded to students from underrepresented groups going abroad for the first time to study, conduct research, or render service. Scholarships are awarded to graduate or professional students to conduct research abroad on race, ethnicity, gender, sexual orientation, or disability topics.

Undergraduate Recipients

Nefertiti Berhane, Sociology and Criminology
Nickolas Castillo, Architecture
Presney Edwards, Spanish/Marketing
Rahwa Hassen, International Studies/Arabic
Andrea Hesse, Neuroscience
Kinjal Pandya, Psychology
Disha Labhasetwar, Mechanical Engineering
Mohammed Muntaser, Biology
Camille Ramirez, Marketing/International Business
Temesgen Senait, International Studies
Clarissa Smith, Business/Marketing
Kathryn Wallace, Human Nutrition

Graduate Recipients

RaShelle Peck, Comparative Studies
Rhonia Gordon, Medicine
Crystal Fuller, Dance

Todd A. Bell National Resource Center on the African American Male

Outstanding Faculty Award

Dr. Terrell Strayhorn, School of Educational Policy & Leadership

Outstanding Staff Awards

Dan Thomas, Office of Diversity and Inclusion
Chila Thomas, Office of Diversity and Inclusion
David Harrison, Fisher College of Business

Outstanding Undergraduate Award

Joseph Amos, Actuarial Science and Economics

Excalibur Prize Winner

Aaron Hatchett, Psychology and Comparative Cultural Studies

Mac A. Stewart Distinguished Award for Service

Shawn Dove, Open Society Institute (OSI) US Programs

Diversity Research Grant

Small grants to support interdisciplinary research projects that have as their central focus such topics as race, ethnicity, gender, sexual orientation, or disability.

Faculty Grants

Dr. Valerie Kinloch, School of Teaching and Learning
"Transformative Service-Learning Initiatives in Urban Schools and Local Communities"

Dr. Terrell Strayhorn, College of Education and Human Ecology
"Intersections of Oppressions: Understanding"

Dr. Sultana Nahar, Astronomy
"Collaborative Project on Energy, Health, and Globalization with Egypt"

Graduate Student Grants

Nyron Crawford, Political Science
"The Boundaries of Racial Loyalty: Blame, Exit, and Social Identity in the Black Boy Politic"

Rashea Hamilton, School of Educational Policy and Leadership
"Visual Perspective and Possible Selves: A closer look at perception and motivation"

Uttara Manohar, School of Communication
"Effects of Perspective-Taking to Improve Undergraduate Students' Attitudes Towards Asian Teaching Assistants"

Danielle Olden, Department of History
"Whiteness in the Middle: Mexican Americans, School Desegregation and the Making of Race in Modern America"

Hye Sue Park, Department of English
"Narrating Other Minds: Alterity and Empathy in Post-1945 Asian American Fiction and Film"

Theresa Rojas, Department of English
Project Narrative Summer Institute

Ravi Somayajulu, Teaching & Learning
"Investigating Pre-Service Teachers' Mathematical Knowledge for Teaching Geometry at the Secondary Level"

Yati Liu, Teaching and Learning
"Nurturing High School Students' Understanding of Proof as a Convincing Way of Reasoning"